FOREIGNERS IN PEKING HAVE AID OF TROOPS

5,000 Soldiers of the Powers Ready to Guard Colonies There

Control of Peking Depends on Present Chinese Armies' Operations

Tokio, Oct. 6.—Indications that the military situation on which the fate of Peking depends is becoming more serious are given in advices reaching the Japanese Government from China.

The Japanese Government, however, apparently does not believe the North China capital is endangered at present, although the combination of Feng Yuxiang's Kuomintang army and the Shanhai Province forces under Yen Hsueh-shan may ultimately cause the downfall of Marshal Chang Tso-lin's regime.

Reports received through Shanghai of Chang's soldiers struggling back into the capital in a demoralized state are not confirmed here and are received with reserve.

The foreigners in Peking are not thought to be in danger, as there are approximately 5,000 foreign troops in the city at present and any fighting between the Chinese factions for control will probably be staged outside the walls.

While the present legation guard is considered adequate, the Japanese Government, it is stated, is preparing to send more troops if conditions seem to warrant such a step.

LOS ANGELES POLICE WATCH COMMUNISTS

Radicals Under Surveillance During Convention of Federation of Labor

Los Angeles, Oct. 6.—Thirty persons, believed to be connected with a communist "lobby" endeavoring to "bore from within" at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, in session here, have been placed under surveillance by the Los Angeles police following the arrest yesterday of Sid Bush, an associated communist, in the very doorway of the convention room.

Bush was based on suspicion of criminal syndicalism, and it was telegrams and other documents in his possession which resulted in the police investigation extending to include the activities of thirty others.

LETTER FOUND
Bush was instructed, the officers said, in a letter found in his possession from William Z. Foster, secretary of the Communist Party of America, to obtain the introduction of certain resolutions before the Labor convention.

He was directed to work in cooperation with Sam Gliberman, an officer of the Communist Party here, and Al J. Beck, business representative of the Los Angeles Cleaners and Dyers' Union. Both Gliberman and Beck were detained by the police, but later released.

Balkan General Is Assassinated

Kovachevitch, Yugoslav Strategist, Shot by Two Men at His Home

Lehtip, Yugoslavia, Oct. 6.—Brigadier-General Kovachevitch, by reputation one of the ablest strategists in the Serbian army, was assassinated by two men today just as he was entering his home.

The assassins, who are alleged to be Macedonians, fired three revolver shots into his body, killing him instantly.

The men later were reported trying to escape into Bulgaria after having succeeded in fleeing from the scene of the crime.

Drunk Japanese Attacked Auto of French Ambassador

Tokio, Oct. 6.—It is learned that an automobile bearing Robert de Dilly, French ambassador to Japan, was attacked and damaged by two Japanese last Sunday. The ambassador, who was driving from Kanakura to Yokohama, was not injured.

The attackers are said to have been intoxicated. The ambassador and two naval officers who were in the car fought them off until police arrived and arrested them.

The ambassador regarded the incident as of little importance and made no complaint to the Foreign Office.

BRITAIN GREET'S U.S. LEADER AND VETERANS OF WAR

GENERAL J. J. PERSHING

who is in London to-day with the large American Legion party which has been touring France and Belgium.

London, Oct. 6.—Great Britain to-day greeted the American Legion "goodwill party," which arrived here from France this morning.

The legionnaires were various colored overseas caps and represented the forty-eight states of the Union. A procession, formed on the Embankment near Cleopatra's Needle, included many women, wives and relatives of legionnaires. At the Cenotaph in Whitehall, Howard Savage, Legion commander, placed a wreath on the memorial, after which the party marched to Westminster Abbey, where a wreath also was placed upon the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

FRANCE-ARGENTINA AIR LINE PLANNED

Paris, Oct. 6.—A regular aeroplane line between Toulouse, France, Dakar, Senegal, and Buenos Ayres will be functioning soon, according to Maurice Bokanowski, French Minister of Commerce.

The flight Diodonne Coste is expected to start October 8 with the intention of reaching Brazil in two hops, Paris to Dakar and Dakar to Pernambuco, is expected to furnish valuable data for such a service.

Women of Great Britain Given Promise of Vote At Twenty-one Years of Age

Cardiff, Wales, Oct. 6.—The "Flapper Vote" proposal, as the equal suffrage project in Great Britain has been termed, won a big victory at the National Conservative Party conference to-day when a motion granting the giving of votes to women at the age of twenty-one instead of at thirty was carried by an overwhelming majority.

THREE CHIEF SUBJECTS
Cardiff, Wales, Oct. 6.—Great Britain's political pot, which is beginning to bubble, simmered a little more to-day with the opening of the Conservative Party conference here. The three main subjects on the programme being reform of the House of Lords, equal franchise for men and women, and agriculture.

It was the "flapper vote" fight which brought the 1,500 women delegates of a total of 25,000 out early this morning to stand in long lines, hours before the doors of Park Hall opened. As a result the women got the best seats for the anticipated row.

GOVERNMENT CONGRATULATED
In moving the conference, which was unanimously adopted, Sir Robert Sanders, president of the council, said there were two measures upon which the party was agreed, the first, the Baldwin Government and itself, namely, the expulsion of the Soviet trading organizations, Arcos, and the amendment of the trade union law.

Many of the 2,000 depositors in the Dominion Savings Bank in Victoria have neglected to transfer their accounts to the Post Office Savings Bank, in line with the change of control now going into effect. These accounts should be transferred before October 10, and all who have not done so already are asked to call at the Victoria Post Office for the purpose.

A. S. Pothier, assistant superintendent of the savings branch of the Post Office, is in the city with the purpose of seeing the change here placed in effect.

Though some depositors have attended to the transfer, notice of which was mailed on September 6 to as many as could be located, there are still a large number who have so far neglected to make the change.

Describing the Post Office Savings Branch to The Times to-day, Mr. Pothier stated there was a large number of depositors in the 1,400 branches throughout the Dominion here in the institution founded the year after Confederation, 1868. Depositors receive three per cent on their money, backed by the security of the Dominion Government.

A popular feature of the work, it is explained, is the great accessibility of the depositors' Post Office boxes. The depositor is given a passbook which enables him to go to any post office in Canada, irrespective of the branch he deposited his money with, and draw out small sums to his credit during the regular hours. Many use this provision when moving from place to place in travel.

The Post Office Savings account has proved a popular and workable feature of the thrift campaign, and through its operation has added many in the accumulation of savings that ran into considerable sums.

Mr. Pothier will be at the Victoria Post Office until October 10, by which time all local accounts should have been transferred. Those concerned in the change over are asked to call at the Post Office and make sure their accounts have been transferred. After the transfer deposits will be paid in at the Post Office wickets here.

There will be a banquet at the Empress Hotel this evening.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 6.—El Continental, Spanish language newspaper, says the leaders of the abortive revolution against the Calles administration in Mexico plotted to capture President Calles and General Obregon, Calles' choice for President next year, and execute them, a military "discovery" headed by General Francisco Serrano to rule the republic.

WAGE INQUIRY MAY REACH ALL MINES IN ISLAND FIELD

Miners Ask to Extend Scope of Arbitration Outside Nanaimo

Single Board May Consider All Fields in New Investigation

The entire coal mining industry of Vancouver Island will be brought under the wage investigation to be started shortly in Nanaimo, if island miners are successful in plans launched to-day.

Employees of the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited at Ladysmith, and Cumberland are following the miners of Nanaimo in applying for a conciliation board to consider their present rate of pay. Instead of a new board they will ask the Federal Department of Labor to allow the Nanaimo board to consider their position as well as that of the Western Fuel Corporation's workers.

APPLY TO OTTAWA
Notice of this plan was filed with the Provincial Department of Labor this morning. The application to Ottawa for a wage arbitration will go forward immediately.

P. E. Harrison, Dominion Fair Wage officer, is on his way to Nanaimo now to meet representatives of the Ladysmith and Cumberland miners there plans with them.

AGREEMENT RE-OPENING
The present agreement between the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd. and their miners ends in about a month. The miners feel that instead of applying for a separate board at the expiration of the agreement, it is wiser to ask for the Nanaimo board to consider their wages now.

Bush, an extension, it is thought here, would cause miners in other island districts to take similar steps with the result that the entire coal mining industry of the island would come under the arbitration, making it one of the most important wage investigations conducted in British Columbia for many years.

Mexico City, Oct. 6.—General Alfredo R. Quijano, charged with leading his troops of the Mexico City garrison to rebellion, was sentenced to death by a summary court-martial to-day. The court set this morning at 11 o'clock.

BATTLE IMMINENT
Mexico City, Oct. 6.—Brought to bay by pursuing troops, General Arnulfo Gomez, principal remaining leader in the military revolt against the Calles Government, was reported to-day to be preparing to give battle against overwhelming odds, with his life at stake.

A body of his men from capital Sunday night in support of the revolt, joined forces with Gomez, but they were greatly outnumbered.

The pursuing troops were last reported close to their quarry at El Triunfo, a ranch near the old fortress of Perote in the State of Vera Cruz, with a battle imminent.

(Mexican diplomatic officials in the United States yesterday received a report that Gomez had already been captured and executed, as was the fate on Monday of General Francisco Serrano, the other leader of the revolt.)

EXTRACTION ORDER AWAITED BY COURT
Vancouver, Oct. 6.—Charles Wright, who pleaded guilty to breaking into the Corcoran Street liquor store here and stealing $2,750 and fifty-three cases of liquor, was further remanded until October 18 for sentence in police court to-day.

The remand is due to the fact that Robert Cross, who is held at Beltingham in connection with the robbery in Vancouver shortly for trial, Inspector J. H. Jewitt is in receipt of information that extradition of Cross will be allowed.

HONOR MEMORY OF POSTCARD INVENTOR
Vienna, Oct. 6.—A great monument will be erected here to the memory of the man who invented the postcard more than seventy-five years ago. Prof. Emanuel Herrman discovered it was simpler for tourists to write "Having a fine time; wish you were here" on the back of a piece of cardboard than it was to write a letter.

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO IS CELEBRATING ITS CENTENARY
Toronto, Oct. 6.—The opening ceremonies in connection with the centennial celebration of the University of Toronto were held to-day in the University Arena. Specially decorated for the occasion, the large building was filled with graduates, students, delegates and members of the general public. Places of honor were occupied by some 300 delegates from universities and learned societies in many parts of the world.

An interesting feature of the programme was the dedication of the new sculpture in the Soldiers' Memorial Tower.

He added he was for a friendly policy toward Russia, but for a firm policy, and would say to his Russian colleagues: "You must play the game and yourselves abandon imperialistic ideas."

Pipgras Mows Down Pirates While His Mates Clout Ball

Rallies in Third and Eighth Innings Produce Three Runs Apiece, While Pirates Were Only Able to Score in First and Eighth; Pittsburgh Unable to Fathom Pipgras and Did Not Get More Than One Hit in Any Inning; Lloyd Waner's Error in Third Started First Rally

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6.—George Pipgras, sensational young right-hander of the New York Yankees, lay over the Pittsburgh Pirates like a blanket to-day and as a result his team emerged from the second game of the world's series with another victory. The score was 6-2.

Pipgras made the Pirates sluggers look like a bunch of weeping-willows for he yielded but seven hits and in no inning was more than one hit spanked off him. Pipgras used a fine change of pace and his outfielders did not have to work hard to support him. The infield did a great deal of the work. Pipgras is the only pitcher in the series so far, who has gone the full nine innings.

Vic Aldridge on whom Manager Bush counted to win at least two games in the series, was badly mauled by the Yankees and had to retire in the eighth inning when the New Yorkers staged their second rally.

THIRD INNINGS BAD
The third inning seems to be a bad one for the Pirates. Yesterday the Yankees scored three runs in the third, when two errors crept into the Pirates' play and this rally decided the game. The Pirates again went wrong in the third and an error paved the way for three more runs.

There was a complete change of battery in the third. Lloyd Waner, who had been batting first, was moved to second, and Benny Bengough went in to catch his first world series game for the Yankees. GOUGH CAUGHT FOR THE PIRATES

The attendance was estimated at around forty thousand, a few hundred below the mark set by the opening game.

TWO THRILLS
The first inning was featured by two thrills for the fans. The first was the striking out of Babe Ruth by Aldridge. The Bambino swung at the third strike and missed it by a foot. The other necessary repair to the machine had not been effected, it is alleged. The result had been that the regular pilot, Percy Barnes, refused to fly the plane. Barnes did not fly the plane to this point on Sunday.

Flying men here state that they have learned that the authorities do not consider the mail plane airworthy.

ARE STILL WATCHING
It was learned here to-day that the Dominion authorities are watching the mail plane and that another inspection of the craft will in all probability be made on its return here.

The celebrated reinforcement at heel, toe and sole makes for much more wear—and yet it is so cleverly done it is scarcely visible.

Today women choose stockings in shades they know are fashionably correct—are Paris-designed to meet the coming modes in shoes and dress materials. So Holeproof, in its colors, offers you the world-famous authority, Lucile, Paris. Each shade Lucile creates and sends exclusively to Holeproof. Exquisite clearness. In sheer weights clearness comes only through uniformly even thread. The lack of it in cheaper silks causes unsightly shadow rings. So at greater cost Holeproof selects silk judged the world's finest.

Superlative transparency, even in the heavier weights. There is no cloudiness, no streaking. First the silk is tested, then it undergoes the special Holeproof treatment.

No loose ends. Loose threads mar appearance. So Holeproof carefully trims the inside of each stocking by hand.

No imperfections. Style vanishes with imperfections. And here Holeproof safeguards you by nine separate inspections. It is a fact that few other fine hose are so uniformly perfect.

GUTHRIE ARRIVES IN WINNIPEG FOR PARTY CONVENTION

Says Predictions of Federal Conservative Delegates'
Course Only Guesses

Winnipeg, Oct. 6.—"Throughout Western Canada there have been tremendous advances. We must be prepared to adopt policies which will stimulate further advances and our platform should be one that will apply to every section of Canada."

This statement regarding the work of the National Conservative Convention, to be opened here next, was made by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, temporary leader of the party, on his arrival in the city to-day.

SPEAKS OF PREDICTIONS

Mr. Guthrie commented on statements which had been made in the press regarding convention possibilities.

"No one knows what action the convention will take either in regard to the leadership or the platform," he stated. "No one has any right to make predictions at this time. The convention in these respects will be left to itself. There is a lot of newspaper talk as to what the convention will likely do, but there is no foundation for anything of the kind. Those who make such predictions are simply guessing."

WORDS FOR WINNIPEG

"I was delighted to know Winnipeg was chosen for this convention," continued Mr. Guthrie. "It is recognized as the central metropolis of the country. I think everyone had the idea it was the logical place, because it is the geographical centre."

"At one time it looked as if it would be very difficult to have a successful convention, but as time went on interest became very much aroused and I am glad to say that so far as Ontario and Eastern Canada are concerned, there will be the biggest delegation that has ever attended a convention. The interest aroused can be gathered from the fact that in ridings where it was previously difficult to get delegates, the representation will be twenty strong now. There is no doubt this will be one of the most representative political gatherings ever held in Canada."

SIR H. DRAYTON THERE

Sir Henry Drayton, former Minister of Finance, also is in Winnipeg to-day.

"Just a humble worker in the vineyard of the Conservative Party," is what he styled himself after his arrival yesterday when asked if he was a candidate for the leadership of the party. His name has been repeatedly mentioned as likely to be offered in nomination.

Sir Henry dismissed the topic of party leadership with the remark: "I think Hon. Howard Ferguson would make an excellent leader."

CHARGE OF MURDER HEARD IN VANCOUVER

At Assizes T. G. Clark Accused of Having Murdered
Jean McKinnon

Vancouver, Oct. 6.—The trial opened in the assize court here to-day of Thomas George Clark, who is charged with having murdered Jean McKinnon. At the request of Reginald Eyre, defence counsel, Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald arranged for the jury to have a view of the place on the old Indian Reserve where the body was found.

Gordon B. Wamer is prosecuting. Internal bleeding and injuries to the left side of the head were the cause, according to Dr. A. W. Hunter, who performed the autopsy.

A large piece of six by four-inch scotch tape had been marked for identification, and both Dr. Hunter and Dr. K. D. Panton, who saw the body six to eight hours after the woman had been killed, expressed the opinion it might have been used as a club by the woman's assailant.

CASE OF PROSECUTION

Outlining the case of the prosecution, Mr. Wamer stated he would attempt to prove Jean McKinnon met the accused man in town here, where they had drinks and that they then went to a bootlegging place on Second Avenue, where they had more drinks. They were seen leaving that place together, said Mr. Wamer, and a witness saw them going towards the Indian Reserve, where the body of the woman subsequently was found.

SWIMMING SUIT STYLES CONDEMNED

W. T. Fletcher, One of Vancouver Police Commissioners, Expresses His Views

Vancouver, Oct. 6.—Modern bathing suit styles, particularly of women, were scored by Commissioner W. T. Fletcher at a meeting of the Vancouver police commission in the office of Mayor Louis D. Taylor.

The question of bathing suits arose in the course of a discussion of a request made by representatives of the Local Council of Women that six policemen be placed on the city force. Supervision of bathing beaches, parks, dance halls, rooming houses and other such places was described by the delegation as being particularly the work of women officers.

Commissioner Fletcher contended many of the complaints in regard to beaches were based on the present swimming suit styles.

DIFFERENT IN SOUTH

"Women and men at bathing beaches are improperly dressed," he said.

"I have visited beaches in the south and we do not see conditions there similar to those existing in Vancouver. Women should abandon their present styles. They themselves are to blame for many of the complaints about the beaches, and it is women's bathing suit styles that are responsible for many of the evil reports. They should have different models suggested."

MODELS SUGGESTED

Later in the meeting Commissioner Fletcher suggested to one of the representatives that the Local Council would be doing more good if it could model a more satisfactory bathing suit. Mrs. E. Caspell, past president of the Local Council, also deplored conditions on beaches. There was nothing similar in American cities, she said, and she described present styles as approaching "indecent exposure."

NO BY-LAW

It was explained by Chief of Police H. W. Long that there was no ordinance governing styles. Some years ago, he said, a parks board by-law had set the standards for bathing suits and had provided for stockings to be worn by women. He had been told by women officers that the whole question was one of modesty, and added that the delegation's course was to ask the parks board to prepare an ordinance respecting bathing suit styles.

Mrs. Caspell admitted the commissioner was correct in blaming women's styles, but explained the subject was of serious proportions, particularly as people were permitted to walk through streets to the beaches clad in only overcoats, which often flew open.

COURT TO DECIDE CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

Vancouver, Oct. 6.—Expressing the view there had been a miscarriage of justice and a mis-trial, the Court of Appeal has sent back to the Supreme Court for rehearing petitions concerning the custody of three young children of Edward M. McCabe, seaman on the Federal Government steamer Estevan.

Mr. Justice Morrison in Victoria had awarded custody of four-year-old Edward Michael McCabe to an uncle, Alexander Henry Painter, Victoria coal and wood dealer, and to his wife, Lily Painter. Custody of Evelyn Marie McCabe, aged six, and Margaret Alice McCabe, aged two, had been awarded by Mr. Justice Morrison to Benjamin Henry Sheppard and his wife, Winifred Gwendolyn Sheppard.

Mr. Painter is an uncle of the children, his sister, their mother, Mrs. Ethel McCabe, having died March 2 last. Mrs. Sheppard being a second cousin of the deceased.

NO SHORTHAND REPORT

Because the proceedings before Mr. Justice Morrison had not been reported by the Victoria official, stenographer and because the judge had omitted to record any notes of the evidence, the Court of Appeal decided there had been a miscarriage of justice.

"I attach no blame to the learned trial judge," said Chief Justice Macdonald. "No doubt he thought he was doing what he ought to do."

CHOICE OF JUDGE

The Chief Justice stated the case would go back to the Supreme Court and he suggested to counsel it would be advisable not to have the matter heard by the same judge because he might have some feeling in the case. This latter opinion evoked objection from Mr. Justice Martin, who thought there should be no other direction than that he case should be reheard in the Supreme Court. Mr. Justice

THE RIGHT MOVE

BY THE END OF JANUARY NEXT year, we are told in a dispatch from Ottawa, the Department of Health will have twenty physicians in European cities inspecting immigrants who are about to leave for Canada. The policy in the past has been to hold all medical inspections at the port of entry, and deportations of the unfit very naturally have involved considerable expense.

This alteration of procedure is the right move. There is a great deal more involved than the cost which Canada may have to defray in turning people back home after they have crossed the Atlantic with the prospect of settling in this Dominion. Many unfortunate immigrants, either through ignorance of what might await them if they failed to measure up to the required mental and physical standards, or through fear that they might be discouraged from setting out on their adventure, have sold up their homes and put all their cash into ticket money, only to find on their arrival on this side that they could not gain admission. In many cases this has been stark tragedy for the people involved, while it is hardly to be supposed that they return to their native land with very pleasant recollections of their reception at our ports.

Under the new plan, however, much agony of mind and not a little expense should be avoided. The old system which required steerage passengers to file past a medical man on shipboard at the point of origin obviously was little better than a farce. It was a perfunctory proceeding at best, and unless any ailment was plainly visible at a casual glance, the inspection was a waste of time and an unpleasant experience for most.

NELSON AND WINNIPEG

IT IS NOT EASY TO UNDERSTAND why the morning paper should be put out because the by-election in Nelson has been called at a time which conflicts with the Conservative convention in Winnipeg.

The Nelson contest has been arranged for this month because it is necessary for Premier MacLean to go to Ottawa to attend the gathering of provincial Premiers in Ottawa next month. If it had not been called at this time, the important riding of Nelson would have gone unrepresented for possibly three months longer. A delay of that kind would not have suited The Colonist and it knows that not two months have elapsed since the death of Mr. Oliver. It will thus be understood by all reasonable people that October 17 is about the logical date for Nelson to go to the polls.

The attitude which the morning paper has taken, however, is far from sound. It complains that Dr. Tolmie will not be able to go to Winnipeg because he must conduct the Conservative campaign in Nelson. Will it seriously suggest that the business which will be transacted by the Opposition Party at Winnipeg has any bearing upon the business which demands attention in Nelson? Will it seriously suggest that the Winnipeg convention will be hampered in its deliberations by the absence of Dr. Tolmie? His recent public utterances do not suggest to us that he has anything very substantial to offer for the assistance of the Federal Conservative Party. The results of the last two Dominion general elections may not be referred to as special triumphs for his organization.

Apart from the necessity of filling the Nelson vacancy as quickly as possible, it is of vital importance that Premier MacLean should be able to go to Ottawa and give his undivided attention to the discussion of matters there in which British Columbia is especially interested. We fail to see that the Conservative convention at Winnipeg has any direct or immediate bearing upon the progress of provincial affairs.

ARTHUR BOURCHIER

MANY OLD COUNTRY THEATRE-goers no doubt heard of the death of Mr. Arthur Bouchier in South Africa recently with a pang of regret. He was one of the most distinguished and accomplished of Britain's actors of the older school. He took so many leading roles during his long career on the stage that it is not easy to single out one which may be described as the vehicle upon which he rode to fame. Perhaps his production of Sutor's "Walls of Jericho" was one of his most outstanding successes. But he was interested in other things besides the stage. Politics claimed a fair amount of his time in recent years and he already had been adopted as a candidate in the interests of Labor for a Gloucestershire division; he was rather proud of the fact, moreover, that he was the last of the old actor-managers who ran his own theatre without a syndicate or financial partner.

It is interesting to recall that it was Mr. Bouchier, about twenty years ago, who threw down the gauntlet to one or two of the more prominent dramatic critics of the large London dailies that had been particularly caustic in their references to one of his special productions. He was so incensed at Mr. E. A. Baughan of The London Daily News that he announced his intention of issuing no further invitations to that paper for future "first nights." That announcement, of course, was one of the greatest mistakes of his career, as he was soon to recognize by a public apology for his temporary fit of perversity. But as if to complete his contrition, he sent to The Daily News on the eve of his departure for South Africa a little while ago a special obituary, written by himself, for use on the occasion of his death, a premonition of his approaching end having come to him. Before the newspaper could get in touch with him for an explanation of his strange proceeding, death had claimed him. If he fell out with The News years ago, therefore, he gave that well-known daily an exclusive "story" in the end.

ADVERTISING BY FORCE

WHEN AN ORGANIZATION HOLDS its convention in Victoria Dr. Tolmie would give its delegates more information about the Province and furnish them with less facilities for playing with golf balls and "highballs." This was how he explained his belief in advertising to the Conservatives of Saanich on Tuesday night.

Are we to assume from the Conservative leader's suggestion that if delegates from some other part of this continent or from foreign countries over the sea should even suggest that a game of golf, with possibly a "highball" at the nineteenth hole, would be appreciated, they would have to be told forthwith that it was not good for them, that arrangements had been made for a corps of "spellbinders" to fill them up to the brim with the latest statistics about British Columbia, that even a drive round the city, giving them an opportunity to see what it looks like, would not be permitted unless they could stay long enough after having absorbed the lectures which had been prepared for them?

Never let it be supposed that such an arrangement would be difficult to carry out. Several hotel rooms could be engaged with special locks, the delegates could be carefully herded with the assistance of the police, and as soon as they were safely seated the keys could be turned and the "spellbinding" could commence. It would be a simple affair to pass them their meals through the windows, effectively barred beforehand in order that escape would be impossible. Nothing stronger than ginger ale or ginger beer would be served; tea and coffee, of course, would be optional. But no "highballs."

If after two or three days of this our visitors were able to stand upright, it is possible that arrangements could be made for them to play nine holes and take a weak toddy at the tenth; but no more. After that they would be released from their obligations and permitted to make tracks for their respective homes.

We are sure that the morning paper must be up in arms about the proposal from Dr. Tolmie, for it told us some time ago that it agreed with a visiting journalist when he said that we talked too much about our country, and that we should let the visitor see for himself. It was not complimentary to his intelligence to imagine that he had to have everything drilled into him by professional spicers or by people who let their enthusiasm run away with them.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE BRITISH WAY
From The Montreal Gazette

Dr. Adams, emeritus vice-principal of McGill, who has returned from a visit to the East, says that the British have made Palestine prosperous. Brigandage has been suppressed, roads have been improved and extended, and reforestation is being studied. Order has replaced disorder and the inhabitants are benefiting. The military force numbers but a thousand, two hundred of whom are British. The High Commissioner is Lord Plumer, a great soldier, who is also a most capable administrator. The improved conditions in Palestine are in the nature of things. It is the British way to help other lands and peoples to achieve the best possible results.

MAPLE SUGAR

Q.—What is the maple sugar production in Canada?

A.—Maple sugar production in Canada reached a value of $5,000,000 in 1926, Quebec producing the bulk of the supply. The maple groves of Eastern Canada are renowned for this delicacy. 6,500,000 trees are annually tapped and the Government claims that this number could be easily doubled with a corresponding increase in the output.

INCREASED TARIFF
DUTIES ARE OPPOSED
NOW IN AUSTRALIA

Canberra, Australia, Oct. 6 (Canadian Press Cable Via Reuters).—The imposition of increased tariff duties on certain classes of imports is condemned by the Australian Tariff Board, which has just reported to the Commonwealth Parliament on its inquiry into tariff matters. Instead of improving the Commonwealth's industries, the report states, such tariffs have resulted in stagnation and increased cost of production and living.

The report regrettably continues that there is a prevailing tendency to add to the protective system at the behest of industrial unions and certain producers. It urges the industrial leaders to recognize the serious menace of the rising costs. Otherwise, it says, there will be nothing but disaster ahead.

For a Perfect Cup of Coffee

USE Carnation Milk. Flavor, aroma, color—absolutely perfect. It really makes the coffee. And yet it costs only one-third as much as cream. It is because of the wonderful flavor and golden brown color it gives to coffee that many women have come to use Carnation in all kinds of cooking. Carnation is double-rich—and there's cream in every drop. There's no "top milk" or "bottom milk" to Carnation. The Carnation process of "homogenization" distributes the double-helping of cream evenly throughout the tin. That is why Carnation adds so much smoothness and rich flavor wherever it is used. Order Carnation from your grocer today.

Farmer Carrying Gun Lost His Life

Calgary, Oct. 6.—Shot through the head by a shotgun he was carrying, R. B. Cox, a soldier settler living on a farm six miles north of Carbon, was found dead yesterday by his brother-in-law, J. T. Olive. The body was found near a barbed wire fence and it is believed the trigger was pulled by one of the bars of the fence as Cox wriggled through.

Cox was last seen alive when he went into the house and told the housekeeper he was going out to shoot a stray dog that had been around the farm for several days.

SCREEN VERSION OF "DESERT BOUND" IS AT COLUMBIA

A new twist to an old formula is developed in "Drums of the Desert," Paramount's screen version of Zane Grey's "Desert Bound," whereby the apparent lead becomes a "heavy" and the presumed villain proves to be the hero.

Wallace MacDonald, cast as the "heavy" points to this unusual phase of motion picture construction. "To all intents and purposes," MacDonald states, "I am the romantic lead in the opening sequences while Warner Baxter is the 'heavy.' I play my role clean shaven and with leading man gestures. Baxter plays his with a mustache and circumstances point to his being the one responsible for the dirty work."

"That's the way it is in life, too. You never know who may be a villain at heart. In this story I turn out to be the bad man who does all the villainy and loses the girl to Baxter. But at the start I get all the breaks."

Marietta Miller plays the girl. Incidentally, she's the only white woman in the picture, the majority being Navajo Indians. Exterior scenes for the production were made on the reservation in Arizona.

"Drums of the Desert" is now being shown at the Columbia Theatre, John Waters directed. Ford Sterling is co-starred with Baxter and Miss Miller.

SLOW MOTION FILMS SEVENTH ROUND OF HEAVYWEIGHT FIGHT

The fight pictures of the Tunney vs. Dempsey fight for the championship of the world at Soldier's Field, Chicago, on September 22 that will be shown at Coliseum Theatre this week, should put a stop to arguments over the outcome of the fight. There are many who still think that Dempsey should have won the fight in the seventh round. The seventh round is shown in slow motion.

This fight was the biggest attraction of the age, and it will be a long time before fight fans will be able to see such a spectacle again. The fact that almost everyone that will see this picture heard the account of it over the radio, is a great help in making the picture a real treat for the fight fans of Victoria.

Cox was last seen alive when he went into the house and told the housekeeper he was going out to shoot a stray dog that had been around the farm for several days.

There will be a matinee every day next week at the Coliseum, in order to accommodate the crowds that are expected. The matinee will start at 2 p.m. and the evening performance at 8:30 p.m.

RICHARD BLOOMFIELD with the Co-Optimist Comedy Company at the Crystal Garden.

The versatility of the Co-Optimist players is indicated in the choice of a play for this week's Friday night entertainment at the Crystal Garden.

This will be a costume farce entitled "A Royal Match," which in addition to being funny, will have an added advantage in that its presentation calls for the picturesque costumes and settings of the eighteenth century.

The play demonstrates how an amiable fool turns matchmaker for an ulterior motive. Needless to say his actions lead to his own undoing. The cast includes Mr. and Mrs. Legge-Willis, Miss Clare Vincent and Richard Bloomfield. An addition attraction is to be offered on Friday evening immediately preceding the stage play. This will be in the form of two dances by Miss Nellie Thacker, a graduate of the Cornish School, Seattle. The Crystal Garden orchestra will also render selected concert numbers under the leadership of William Tickle.

ALICE TERRY AND RAMON NOVARRO IN SPANISH LOVE TALE

While it is true "Lovers," now being shown at the Dominion this week with Alice Terry and Ramon Novarro in the leading roles, concerns the love of a senorita for a handsome young don, she is not the Spanish type usually accepted by the public as typical of that romantic nation.

Edward Martindel, who has the role of Don Julian, believes Spanish literature offers a greater storehouse of potential motion picture stories than any other country in the world.

"I blame the opera, 'Carmen,' for the neglect of Spanish literature as screen material," says Martindel, who has traveled extensively in Spain and is familiar with the costumes, customs and traditions of the people.

"Carmen," he says, "being the best known story of Spain, to the average reader has made thousands of our people believe that no Spanish story is true to life unless its action centres about a bull ring and its hero is a bull fighter."

"Nothing could be more misleading about this romantic country. 'Thousands of Spanish girls are beautiful blondes and some Spanish localities have far more blonde girls than brunettes. In 'Lovers' Alice Terry is perfectly within her rights to appear as a blonde."

"Spanish home life is ideal and there are no more aristocratic people in the world than Spaniards of the upper classes. Their environment promotes romance, which their nature so readily absorbs."

"That is, President Wilson, has barged in," he wrote in 1916, referring to the United States President's efforts to bring about peace.

"Procha," he termed the statement as he entered events in his diary, with his personal opinions of the great and near great with whom he came in contact.

President Wilson constantly was referred to as "my cousin." Of his first meeting with President Wilson prior to the opening of the Peace Conference, he wrote that Mr. Wilson "did not impress me in the least."

"He wrote at the close of 1918: 'President Wilson will be discredited. We shall have serious troubles in Ireland and many wars in many parts and Bolshevism frightens me.'"

Military corps of Allied nations are classified as "fools" in extracts of the diary.

The book carries a revelation by Sir Henry that Great Britain was making ready in 1910 for a war it expected to fight with France against Germany in Belgium territory, and that arrangements were made for the landing of troops being made then.

The diary said General Pershing openly ridiculed the "League of Peace."

"If President Wilson has any sense he will go back to America as soon as he can," the Field Marshal wrote of the meeting at the Quai d'Orsay in 1919.

"To-day Wilson was rather tiresome and Lord George was asleep."

Sir Henry Wilson in June, 1922, was assassinated on the doorstep of his London home by two Sinn Feiners.

Corn

comes out—root and all

An aching corn is like twitch grass—a prolific weed—which is very troublesome and steadily increases in growth. The only effective way to remove corns or weeds of any kind is to grub below the surface for the roots. To pare the exposed parts only stimulates growth.

A foot-bath or two of Radox will grub out the most persistent corn—root and all—without pain or danger of infection.

When you dip your feet in a foot-bath containing Radox Bath Salts, the dead skin of the corn combines with the Radox Salts to form a protein salt of the actual corn itself. This protein salt dissolves in the water, and so softens the corn that, after a few baths, it may be lifted out easily. Radox does not affect the living skin, but dissolves the dead skin—the corn.

BRITISH WOMEN NOW STRONG IN UNIONS

Industrial Women Want Working Hours Limited to Forty-eight

London, Oct. 6 (Canadian Press).—Seventy-nine delegates, representing thirty-one unions with a membership of 1,313,485, attended the second annual Women's Trade Union Congress in connection with the Trades Union Congress in Edinburgh recently.

Miss Margaret Bondfield, Labor M.P., Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Labor in the late Labor Parliament, who presided, said that the women's membership of the unions represented was 337,000, and the total women's membership of Congress was 411,751. What they were striving to secure was that women equally with men should help in its administration.

Women trade unionists, Miss Bondfield said, were called on to meet the attacks of outside enemies of women who, in the name of equality, demanded the repeal of protective legislation for women which did not apply equally to men. This was an attempt to destroy the foundations on which industrial women had been able to raise their standard of conditions to something nearer real equality.

Miss Bell of the National Union of General and Municipal Workers, moved a resolution recording profound regret that the Government had not fulfilled its pledges to reform factory legislation, and condemning the proposals of the Government in the Factories Bill. The resolution urged the limitation of hours to nine in any day, with a maximum of 48 hours in a week, and the prohibition of overtime for young persons.

BRIDGE HAS BROUGHT FORTUNE TO WIDOW

Former Alaska Prospector Finds Teaching of Bridge More Lucrative

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 6.—A futile search for gold in Alaska brought Mrs. Virginia Tubbs and her husband to Chicago twelve years ago. Six years later, widowed and inexperienced in business, she turned to bridge as her only means of support.

To-day Mrs. Tubbs earns more than $1,000 a month teaching Chicago's "gold coast" residents how to play bridge. She has learned the game during the long evenings in their isolated Alaskan home. Her mastery of cards now causes leading men bridge experts to commend her as "the only woman who knows anything about bridge."

The first few years she taught for 50 cents an hour and often had to take long cross city street car rides in order to obtain pupils. Now her lowest price is $10 a lesson and she never lacks luxurious transportation, either in her own car or in the automobiles of her "students."

Teaching bridge, she says, is much like educating a child. It requires infinite patience and an ability to refrain from belittling the efforts of those who are learning.

ADVENTISTS' BAN ON WOMAN'S FRIPPERIES

Church Says Clothing Proclaims Character of Wearer

Washington, D.C., Oct. 6.—Bobbed hair, bright colors, rakish hats, earrings, variegated sleeves, dresses and "skirts" that go more than ten or twelve inches above the floor have been banned for women Bible workers of the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

On the theory that clothing proclaims the character of the wearer, the Ministerial Association of the church has sent to its workers throughout the country a lengthy pronouncement on the subject warning them that "the best dressed women are always quietly dressed."

Among other furbelows that the association says should be shunned are vanity cases and miniature handbags. Sites of brightly-colored handkerchiefs or lace dangling from the sleeve, striped or checked hosiery, umbrellas or pencils mounted with "grotesque or foolish doll heads."

MEN'S CLUB SOCIAL

The Men's Club of the Oak Bay United Church held a social on Tuesday evening, its informal nature making it very enjoyable. Rev. W. A. Guy, the pastor, presided, and a short address of the aims of Men's Club work and the value of having an objective in view. J. B. Clearhugh, the president, asked for the co-operation of the members in making the club a success by regular attendance at the meetings.

The musical items were much appreciated, and included a pleasing number by the Misses Dorothy and Marion Hargreaves, violin and piano; and Chris Miller, violin; delightful songs by Miss Viola Johnson and J. Paulding; also violin solos by Chris Miller were much enjoyed. The accompanists were the Misses Vellie Johnson and Estelle Clarke. Community songs under the leadership of Mr. W. H. Russell added to the evening's success. The winners of the guessing competition were Jean Smith and Mr. George Burnell. At the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served by the men.

Plan Rummage Sale and Bazaar.—At the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society held in the church parlor on Wednesday afternoon, the ladies of the First United Church decided on two functions which they intend holding in the near future. The first will be a rummage sale in the schoolroom at the church on Friday morning, October 21, covered by Mrs. Fair and Mrs. Wilkerson. The second is their usual popular autumn bazaar on Saturday, November 5, for which the young ladies of the church have been busily preparing for some time. The meeting was well attended and most enthusiastic. In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. Burns, Mrs. L. B. Gould, first vice-president, presided.

SOCIAL PERSONAL WOMEN'S AFFAIRS AND CLUB NEWS

FINANCES COME IN FOR DISCUSSION AT NATIONAL COUNCIL

$100,000 Budget Sustained; B.C.'s Resolutions Adopted

Stratford, Ont., Oct. 6.—At to-day's session of the annual meeting of the National Council of Women of Canada, a considerable part of the time was taken up in explanation of constitutional matters.

Greetings were read from Viscountess Willingdon, sent from the Governor-General's train at Calgary.

Mrs. J. S. Dugman, of Toronto, gave the report of the International Council of Women's financial committee.

It was reported that the workers women's association of Canada sent a fine contribution of arts and handicrafts to this country to Geneva and many local councils from east to west sent both money and local products.

When the question of the budget was under discussion, the decision was made to sustain the budget for $100,000 in the interests of extension. Out of this decision came the resolution that the local council set aside one day in the year for raising allocations for the budget.

Mrs. Caroline Carmichael, of Ottawa, gave the report of the International Council of Women committees on laws and the local position of women, coming out of the meeting at Geneva. A resolution from the International Council of Women evolved from the subjects discussed was endorsed by the committee.

"The I.C.W. desires that a woman lawyer be placed on the committee for the modification of the international law in order to represent women's interests in the discussion of all questions relating to women and children."

Mrs. Paul Smith, Vancouver, presented the resolutions that were proposed by the Provincial Council of British Columbia and these were endorsed by the meeting. They are as follows:

"That the convenor of laws be asked to make survey of divorce laws, together with the practice and procedure in each province."

"And, further, to bring in a resolution for a just basis in the granting of alimony."

"That the National Council of Women do request the Dominion Government to grant the right to women to be appointed members of the Senate."

"That since a clause or clauses in the British North America Act appear to forbid or debar women from being so appointed, the National Council do request the Dominion Government to request the amendment of the clause or clauses or interpretations thereof in the British North America Act, so that equal right to sit as members of the Senate may be granted to women."

Mrs. L. A. Wilson, of Ottawa, presented the report of the International Council of Women committees on equal moral standard and traffic in women.

Mrs. Wilson made clear the standing of the different countries on the subjects and told that the matter of traffic in women and children was being taken up by the League of Nations.

As a remedy, Mrs. Wilson reported that funds had been provided by the American Hygiene Bureau, and that the made and delegates were taken for a drive around the city which was followed by tea at the country club at which members of the 28th Regional Chapter, I.O.D.E. were hostesses.

Mrs. Dorothy McLaren, of Lanigan, Saskatchewan, accompanied her grandmother, Mrs. W. G. McLaren on her return to Victoria, will attend the Victoria High School.

On Wednesday evening Mr. Jack Fraser Fleming entertained at an enjoyable stag dinner party at his home on Oak Bay Avenue to celebrate the occasion of his twenty-first birthday. The table was artistically decorated with red gladioli and asparagus fern. The invited guests were Messrs. Wright, Wilson, Andrew Wright, Cyril Wright, Lawrence Whittington, Don Hayes, Tom Woodison, Arthur Fraser, Larry Henderson, Walter Fraser, Jack Aldridge and John Harrison.

Mrs. Alex McDermott entertained at a delightful bridge and mah jong party at her home, Grace Manor, The Empress Hotel, yesterday afternoon in aid of the funds for the bazaar to be held on November 10 at St. Joseph's Hospital. Seventeen tables were in play. The bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Harry Stewart, Mrs. Dave Spencer and Mrs. E. C. Hart, and the mah jong prizes by Mrs. B. C. Richards, Mrs. W. A. Gallier and Mrs. Angus Campbell.

Tea was served in the dining-room at a table centred with an artistic arrangement of golden-rod, Russian broom and maidenhair fern, with pale green candles in silver sconces.

The resolution advocated a system of education whereby the harmful effects of alcohol would be taught.

War Orphans Are Excluded From U.S.

New York, Oct. 6.—Two little girls, war orphans, one French and the other English, were ordered excluded from the United States last night, despite the pleas of a wealthy California widow who was seeking to adopt them.

The children, Dorothy Rickett, thirteen, born at Croymond, England, and Albertine Lamour, fourteen, a native of Kilbreau, France, arrived on the French liner Degraffe.

Their intended foster-mother, Mrs. Jeannette C. Gilman of Alameda, Cal., announced after a board of special inquiry made known its decision that she would appeal to the Immigration Department at Washington.

The board did not make known the reason for excluding the children.

Mrs. Gilman said she became interested in the girls while she was doing war work, and that she had them placed in French schools.

the ceremony. The bride wore a draped afternoon model of beige crepe Elineth trimmed with two tone georgette petals and a close-fitting hat of darker tone. The bridesmaids wore light blue and white. The groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. M. Crawford.

The bride and groom will be at home at the Wilsonian, Seattle, after November 1. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Charles J. Taylor, a prominent business man in Southern California, and Mrs. Taylor of Goldboro, N. C., and Washington, D. C. Her mother is one of the best known women of the South, not only for her social, but in educational and patriotic societies; and is a national vice-president of the League of American Pen Women.

Professor Ayer has been on the staff of the University of Washington Law School since 1913. Yanks Gleeful While Pirates Are Subdued

Big Difference in Dressing-rooms of Two Clubs Contending for the World's Series Honors; Manager Bush Rides Pirates; Joe Harris, of Pittsburgh, Says Yankees Were Sure Lucky to Get Five Story to Tell Next Time Runs Off Six Hits; Will Be Different

Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, Oct. 6.—The glee that comes of "hard fought victory and the quiet tenseness of embattled defeat pervaded the players' dressing-rooms yesterday after the Yankees pounded the Pirates into a 5 to 4 defeat in the first game of the world's series.

"It won't be long now," boomed Babe Ruth as he stormed into the clubhouse swinging the bat that clouted three singles. Behind him clattered the rest of the Yankee tribe.

"These Yankees are a couple of good ball players," the heavy-weight slugger announced. "They sure popped a few out my way."

The Pirates dived behind locked doors as soon as the game was over, and when Donie Bush threw open the portals, his Buccaneers were a chastened and subdued gang of ball players.

They talked barely above a whisper as their little manager dressed with never a look their way and hurried out of the clubhouse.

Joe Harris, belting first-base man, was spokesman for the reticent Pirates, and displayed all the quiet confidence of the former cracker-jacking crew.

"Any team that gets five runs on six hits is lucky, mighty lucky, and that sort of luck can't keep up. We had those heavy hitters stopped in their tracks. Aside from Ruth these slugs only got three hits, and Gehrig's triple was a rank fluke. Kremer will get better support next time, and he'll win. Anyway, Vic Aldridge is sure to count to-day, so we'll go to New York just where we started here."

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6.—World's series guessing game yesterday to solid facts as the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Yankees went into it with baseball bats and curves.

Opening of the series found the Yankees 7 to 5 favorites and every one satisfied, but a large number of fans and sportsmen were not so sure.

There were not enough tickets to go around. Forbes Field, home of the National League champions, can seat only a few hundred over 40,000 under normal conditions, with standing room for several thousand more.

WEDDING ALL NIGHT
Hundreds who failed to get tickets stood and waited throughout the night for the gates to open yesterday morning. They earned their places in the temporary stands erected outside the park, but commanding a fine view of the field.

First spectators on hand were asleep in the outfield bleachers long before time for the players to come on the field. They left calls with neighbors for time and some slept under a blanket, admonishing their friends to stand when Babe Ruth put in an appearance.

The men, women and children in bleachers outside the park had been standing in line all night, and they needed their sleep.

The calls were not needed, for, at noon, a red-coated band appeared on the field with a combination of wind, brass, reed and string instruments. Nick Alcock and Al Schacht, baseball comedians, accompanied the band, but the musicians seemed to do very well in spite of the assistance from Nick and Al.

They got a hand from the sleeping birds outside the park, and the men whom stretched around the park, some hoped to squeeze in the bleachers before game time, but the great majority were standing to get a chance to stand some more during the game.

In the long stretches of persons anxious to buy standing room privileges in the grandstand, limited to some 5,000, were all ages. The crowd had only one thing in common—enthusiasm, while the age scale ranged from an underized three-year-old or so to a substantial 85 or 90.

Pennock's injury, suffered in batting practice on Tuesday when he was struck above the knee by a line from the left-handed bat of Geddie Duff, appeared serious, although his physician declared that the left-hander, who had never been charged with a world's series defeat, will be ready to work when the teams move to New York.

Even without the services of Pennock, the Yankees pitching staff is in good shape with Hoyt, Moore, Linckler and Phipps capable of assuming the full burden if need be.

AN EVEN BET
Jack Onslow, coach for the Pirates last season, who now holds the same position with the Washington Senators, qualified as an expert on both clubs. An even series, Jack called it, as it started. "The Pirates have the speed and some great pitchers," said Jack, "but the Yankees are not so slow as some people think and lot of the boys are dead wrong on one thing. The Yankees cannot be curve-balled to death. They will hit curve balls—plenty of them."

The big coach, who was a clever catcher in his day, looked from one outfit to the other and repeated, "It's even."

MANAGERS TALK
There was a bit of repartee between the contesting managers as they came on the field. The pilots, both small but aggressive, walked to the bench together.

"Well, Hug, it's the old stuff, but I hope the best team wins," grinned Donie Bush.

"Good," replied Miller Huggins, "you know we'll win any way."

Then Ruth protected his left hand against autograph hunters. He was besieged by persons wanting his name on score cards, baseballs, photographs and what have you.

"None of them," he said, as he declined to accept the proffered pens. "This," pointing to his huge left, "is almost broken."

The Yankees were finally captured, and posed with Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, first a Waver then Ruth, then another Waver and Gehrig.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6.—Official figures for the first world series game:
Paid attendance, 41,467.
Total receipts, $182,477.
Players' pool, $93,063.27.
Advisory council, $27,371.55.
Each club, $15,510.54.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6.—Twenty men had fallen into the hands of police last night in the drive on world's series ticket scalpers while a hundred or more of the coveted pasteboards with a "bootleg" value of $15 up each, were sold at police station for their face value of $4.50.

Eleven men were arrested outside Forbes Field yesterday as the opening game got under way. All posted $100 for tickets for yesterday's game were confiscated as were a few for the second game to-day.

Ninety-eight sets of tickets sold Tuesday night when police rounded up nine scalpers in the downtown district were sold at Central Police Station.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 6.—Twenty-five minor league players were drafted last night by club owners of the American and National Leagues at the annual draft meeting conducted by Baseball Commissioner Landis. All of the clubs except the Yankees and Athletics shared in the player selection.

Washington, with four players, headed the list. Especially spirited bidding developed for the services of Howard Freigau, third baseman of the Kansas City Club, of the American Association. He was obtained by Brooklyn after being sought by twelve clubs.

Los Angeles, Oct. 6.—The "Big Three" of the eastern invasion, William T. Tilden II, Francis T. Hunter and Manuel Alonzo, continued yesterday their moving down of western opposition in their path towards Pacific Southwest tennis championships.

All three participated in singles play while Tilden and Hunter paired in doubles competition. Tilden romped to a 6-1, 6-1 win over Nell Brown, San Francisco, to a winner in triumphing over Lionel "Toby" Ogden, Stanford star. Hunter's victory was in straight sets, but the scores were 6-4, 6-3. Alonzo eliminated Henry Culley, eighteen-year-old Santa Barbara youth, who has been the sensation of the tournament.

WON TWO MATCHES
Gerald Stratford, of San Francisco, Pacific Coast doubles champion, won two matches in the singles play. After downing Merle Manning, of Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-1, in the morning, Stratford played a second match in the afternoon, defeating M. Sindorf, also of this city, but in the face of stiffer opposition. The scores were 6-4, 9-7.

Playing in the women's doubles got under way yesterday with Mrs. Molla Mallory, national women's champion last year, and Miss Ees Bouman and Harriet Brewster, of Ponoma College, in the feature match. The victory was by the convincing scores of 6-0, 6-1.

May Sutton Bundy, who starred in national competition more than a decade ago, took as her partner a member of the younger generation of players, Miss Marian Williams, of La Jolla, California, and won from the Misses Barlow and Hoyt, Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-1.

Intermediates Will Open Three Weeks In Advance of Seniors

Youngsters Will Get Started on October 15, But Seniors Will Wait Till November 5

Star Seniors Playing With Canadian Rugby Team and So English Code Must Wait

Owing to the fact that many of the best English rugby players are playing Canadian rugby the Victoria Rugby Union is holding off the opening of its season until November 5, by which time the season for the Canadian code will be just about over. The union decided at a meeting last night to open with a double-header.

The season usually opens a month earlier but the Canadian code has attracted most of the star players and the English rugby teams cannot fill up their sides without them.

More senior rugby players will be available this year owing to the new ruling which has been put into effect regarding the age limit for the intermediate league. Some of the players who played in this league last season will graduate and be available for senior teams.

FOUR TEAMS IN
The J.B.A.A. champions for the past nine years, the Wanderers, Canadian Scottish and United Services will make up the senior league this year. This will make one more club than last year and assure a double-header each Saturday.

The draw for the opening day, November 5, is as follows:
J.B.A.A. vs. United Services at Work Point.
Canadian Scottish vs. Wanderers at the Willows.

The managers of the four teams are busy signing up their squads and the race should be more even this year than for a long time.

The players will be protected this year as steps have been taken to create an injured players' fund, which will be available to assist men who are injured playing game.

The union will make a big effort to dispose of a large number of season tickets this year.

The Intermediate Rugby League will open three weeks earlier than the seniors, as the Canadian League does not affect them. Five clubs have entered so far but others are expected. Entries must be made with the secretary not later than October 13.

The draw for the opening games on October 15 are as follows:
Normal School vs. Victoria College.
Canadian Scottish vs. University School.
Brentwood College, a bye.

The Canadian Scottish rugby team will head the list. The rest of the club headed the list. The rest of the club headed the list.

The following players are asked to turn out: Moss, Sheehy, Thurburn, Warburton, Adams, Jackson, Shaw, Christy, Thesslin, Harris, McGovern, Jones, Wenman, Crease, Ross, Muggford, Gilling, Killick, Turgooose, Rowlands, Robson, Young, Evans, Cann, Pollard and any other players who wish a game.

Play concluded on the Burnside green yesterday. The rest of the club were anxious to try conclusions with the league team, and the result was the justification of the selection committee which has been in office all season.

The scores were:
The Rest League Eight
Arnp Moles
Lauchlan Finlay
Cumming-Smith Renfrew
W. Tupman Johnston, skip 25
skip Pass
Halliday Sinclair
Dealey Byng
Mercer F. Johnston, skip 24
Washington skip 40

The annual meeting of the club and election of officers will be held Friday evening.

The Beginner
DO YOU KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT PIVOTING?
YES—I HEARD SOMEBODY SAY YOU'RE SUPPOSED TO REPLACE YOUR PIVOTS

From a sideshow attraction to a featured performer in a three-ring carnival.

In the parlance of the circus, that one sentence tells the story of two of the outstanding stars in baseball, making the debut in the majors.

They are Lloyd Waver of the Pittsburgh Pirates, the sensation of 1927, not only in the National, but the American as well, and Wilcey Moore of the New York Yankees, unquestionably the "pitching fool" of the year.

Last season these two players were doing their stuff in the South Atlantic League, known to the baseball profession as the "Sally" League. It can hardly be mentioned in the same breath as the National and American as far as baseball standards are concerned.

Yet, this week, in the world series, the comparatively unknown Wilcey Moore and Lloyd Waver of the "Sally" League of 1926, are the two most talked about individuals in baseball.

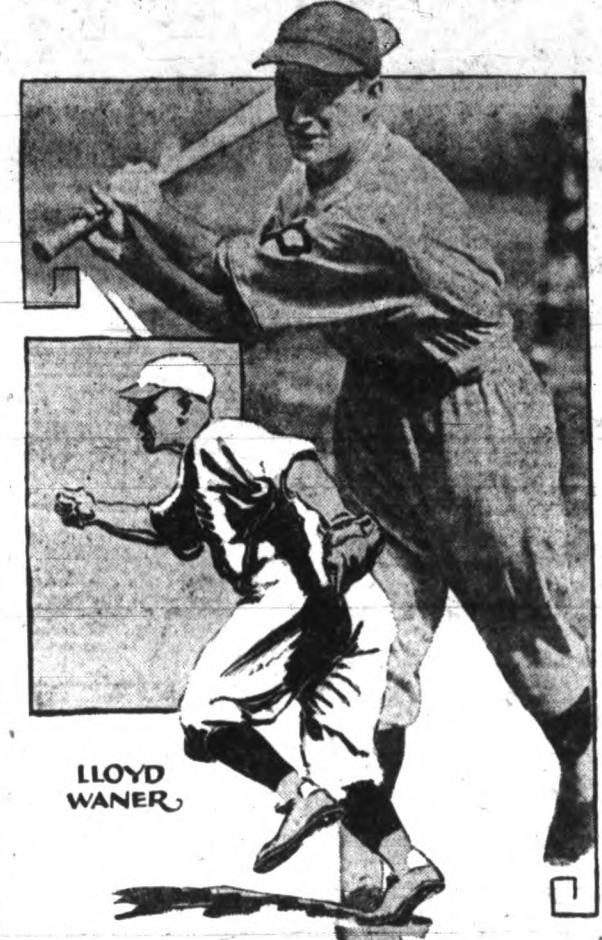

All Moore did last season as a member of the Greenville, S.C., team was to win thirty games and lose only four, while pitching that club to a pennant. He won practically one-third of the victories scored by his team.

TRIED TO WIN WITH BAT
Lloyd Waver, with a batting average of .345 for 121 games, in which he compiled 172 hits, was trying to do as much for Columbia, S.C., with his batting as was Moore for a rival club with his pitching.

In the spring of last year Paul Waver, who starred for the Pirates in 1926, brought along his brother Lloyd to the Pirates' training camp in California. While he realized the "kid" wasn't quite ready for the big show, he hoped he would show enough stuff to warrant the San Francisco club signing him.

The Frisco owners, who have had great success in selling stars to the majors, couldn't see Brother Lloyd. Had he looked good to them he would have brought a fancy figure into their coffers in the Fall. Unable to place Lloyd with a minor league of higher classification, he was shipped to the Columbus club of the "Sally" League. He burnt up that circuit and Pittsburgh got him back for little or nothing.

FORMER BUSH LEAGUE PALS MAY PROVE REAL STARS OF SERIES

Moore was signed by the New York business office, after all the scouts had turned him down. His imposing reputation as a first-year pitcher, despite expert opinion to the contrary.

DID NOT STOP
Jumping from the "bushes" to the big show didn't even temporarily halt Waver and Moore on their mad hop to baseball fame.

While Moore's New York record shows seventeen victories, one of the most remarkable performances ever turned in by a first-year pitcher, Manager Miller Huggins, of the Yankees, will tell you that Moore should really be credited with thirty of the champions' wins. He has saved in the neighborhood of fifteen games as relief pitcher.

Lloyd Waver, early this spring displaced so outstanding a star as "Eck" Coyley. In his first year in the majors he was among the first five hitters all season. He was the second player in the National League to make 300 hits. His brother Paul being first. No other player ever amassed 200 base hits.

It will be interesting to watch the work of Wilcey Moore and Lloyd Waver, late stars of the "Sally" League, now headlines under the big tent. Yesterday Moore saved the game for the Yankees, when he relieved Hoyt. Waver was very effective both at bat and in the field.

Tillicums, Bakers And Garrison Win In Mid-week Soccer

Wednesday Football League Opened Yesterday With Three Matches

Rennie and Taylors, Last Year's Champs, Defeated Navy at Beacon Hill 2-0

Wednesday League football clubs opened their 1927-28 season yesterday afternoon with three matches. The new entries, the Garrison and Saanich United, made their appearance at Work Point. The Tommies proved too strong for their younger opponents. Rennie and Taylors, last year's league champions, demonstrated they will be in the running again this season. They disposed of the Navy. The Tillicums, who gave the Bakers a merry race last season, got away to a good start by downing the Hudson's Bay.

The results were as follows:
Tillicums 5, Hudson's Bay 2.
Rennie and Taylors 2, Navy 0.
Garrison 7, Saanich United 2.

Trotting out a team composed of young players the Tillicums proved too much for the Bays at the Royal Athletic Park. In the first half the clubmen scored three goals while they held their opponents scoreless. At the start of the second half the clubmen slackened off and the Bays got through for two goals but the winners came back strong in the next twenty minutes and found the net for two counters while the departmentals were unable to add to their total.

Play in the first half favored the Tillicums and the game had only been under way a few minutes when Rigby, outside left for the clubmen, drove a bullet shot past Shrimpton. The Bays took the offensive but were unable to penetrate the strong defence of the Tillicums.

BISSILL GETS ONE
Claude Bissill gave the Tillicums their second goal when he took a pass from Wright in front of the net and beat Shrimpton. Just before the interval Stan Wright went through on his own to drive a high shot under the bar for the Tillicum's third goal.

Upon the resumption of play the Bays took up the attack and for ten minutes bombarded the Tillicum goal. King, centre-forward for the Bays scored their first goal when he beat Sallaway after one of the Tillicum backs had mislaid. This was, however, the Bays and their second goal came from the toe of Fish who drove a fast shot into the goal from the penalty line.

With only a one-goal lead the Tillicums settled down and Claude Hamar boosted their total when he netted from long range. The Tillicum's fifth goal was scored by Bissill after a pretty bit of combination play on the part of the Tillicum forward line.

Towards the end of the game the Bays were on the attack and forced two corners but were unable to score. Hewison refereed and the teams were as follows:

Tillicums—Sallaway; Burns and Hum; Sewell, Hocking and Davis; Cann, Hamar, Wright, Bissill and Rigby.

Hudson's Bay—Shrimpton; Oskman and Smith; Hocking, Woodcock and Cull; Fish, Haven, King, Mair and Collier.

Rennie and Taylors played with only nine men in the first half and ten in the second period, but were good enough to beat the Navy.

The Navy had plenty of chances to score the match away in the first half but erratic shooting by their forwards lost them many opportunities.

Rennie's scored one goal in the first half, Davis beating Bays after taking a pass from Jack Taylor. The Navy tried hard to equalize but their efforts fell down when it came to shooting on goal.

In the second half the Bakers had the edge on the play but were only able to get one more goal. Cyril Speak scored after taking a pass from D'Wiv.

The Navy have fairly strong eleven and, with a little more practice will give any of the clubs a good battle. Oliver refereed and the teams were as follows:

Rennie and Taylor—Lomas; Tupman and Newman; Borde, J. H. Stewart and D. Stewart; Taylor, Hay, Speak and Davis.

Navy—Barr; Dyson and Temple; C. White, Roberts and Prieau; Stone, Poole, Kerr, Marr and Gleave.

After holding the Garrison in the first half the Saanich United went to pieces and were forced to admit defeat at the hands of the Tommies. A half-time score stood two-all, but in the last forty-five minutes the Garrison had things practically their own way and netted five goals while their opponents went scoreless.

Richard and Craig scored for the Garrison in the first half while Tooby got both of Saanich goals.

Displaying good combination play the Garrison sewed up the game in the second period. Saanich broke away several times but their forwards failed to get through the Garrison back defence.

Of the five goals scored in the second half Richard and Kemp got two and Craig one.

McKay refereed and the teams were as follows:

Garrison—Lindgren; Wallace and Farrar; Quinn, Spiller and Simpson; Newton, Richard, Kemp, Craig and Pocock.

Saanich United—Spellar; Love and Simpson; Barry, Adams and Tooby; Stoney, Hawkes, Tooby, Ralph and Brown.

Newspaper Broadcast of Game Annoys Judge And He Arrests Men

Rev. J. P. Westman was the choice of the meeting for president. He has been a leading figure in boys' work both here and in Vancouver for several years, and should prove a capable man to handle the Sunday School Basketball Association for the coming season.

"Bob" Whyte was again picked as the vice-president. Cyril Lee was elected secretary and Bernard Jones as treasurer. J. D. McMurchie will lead the executive committee.

ENTRIES CALLED FOR
Entries will be called for at once in the following divisions: Junior boys, junior girls, intermediate "B" boys, intermediate "A" boys, intermediate girls, senior men, senior girls.

Entries will close October 19, when the next general meeting will be held. Entries will then be checked over and schedules arranged for the various divisions. Play will commence before November 1. There are several gymnasiums available and it is hoped to have home teams play their home games in their own gym.

First United, Centennial, Fairfield and Memorial Hall will likely all be brought into use this season. There will be some very fast teams in action and prospects are bright for a bumper season.

TO PLAY IN VANCOUVER
As usual at the close of the season, local winners in seven divisions will meet the Mainland champions for the B.C. Sunday School League championship.

Victoria now hold a goodly number of these trophies and will send over teams in all seven divisions to uphold the fine record of the past.

A full representation is asked for the next meeting on October 19.

Glenna Collett Is Defeated By Ottawa Star In Close Game

Former U.S. Champ Eliminated by Miss Paget on Eighteenth Green at Toronto

Toronto, Oct. 6.—The defeat of Glenna Collett of Greenwich, Conn., by one hole by Miss Helen Paget of Ottawa, was the feature of the second round of match play for the Canadian women's open golf championship here yesterday. Most of the seven other matches were through to form.

Navy—Barr; Dyson and Temple; C. White, Roberts and Prieau; Stone, Poole, Kerr, Marr and Gleave.

After holding the Garrison in the first half the Saanich United went to pieces and were forced to admit defeat at the hands of the Tommies. A half-time score stood two-all, but in the last forty-five minutes the Garrison had things practically their own way and netted five goals while their opponents went scoreless.

Toronto, Oct. 6.—Harry Dillon of Winnipeg won the decision over Everett Strong of Omaha in the six-round main event of the boxing card here last night. Dillon appeared to have a big weight advantage and Strong tired in the closing rounds.

Boston Boss Says Fredrickson Has Not Yet Signed Up

Former Victoria Hockey Player Wants to Take a Job as Playing-manager

Boston, However, Do Not Want to Lose His Services; Name High Price For Him

Boston, Oct. 6.—Frank Fredrickson, former Winnipeg and centre ice star obtained by the Boston Bruins last season from Detroit, has not yet signed up with the Bruins for the 1928 National Hockey League season. Fredrickson is much inclined to accept an offer to manage a professional team in his home town of Winnipeg, and to leave the major league while he is still young.

The Boston management has given no indication as to what its attitude would be to a request by Fredrickson to be allowed to play for the Winnipeg team.

Winnipeg, Oct. 6.—The prospect of Frank Fredrickson, flashy centre player of the Boston squad of the National Hockey League, managing Winnipeg's entry in the American Hockey League this year, are unlikely.

Discussing a report from Boston stating that he would be sold to Winnipeg, Fredrickson said he had asked for his release, but as a prohibited price had been asked, he had let the matter drop. Fredrickson said he had arranged to buy a half interest in a minor league club, assuming the position of player-manager. However, this arrangement had to be cancelled. He would not name the club he had negotiated with.

Soon after Fredrickson joined the Victoria Cougars in 1920 he had ambitions to become a hockey leader and at one time intended to float a company to back a new arena in Winnipeg. Fredrickson is now getting along, having passed the thirty mark, and no doubt would like to get out of a club, which he could direct and at the same time play with. He has plenty of good hockey left in him yet. He played with Victoria for six years and appeared in two world's series. Last year he passed along, with the rest of the Cougars, to the Detroit Hockey Club.

Half way through the season things were not going very well at Detroit and the much talked of trade of Fredrickson for Keats was consummated. Fredrickson was sent to the Victoria Cougars. In his new surroundings, Fredrickson played great hockey, had a minor slump and then came on to play fine hockey in the play-offs and world's series.

HARD MEN TO GET
The moguls in hockey have such strong control to-day, however, that the hockey player has got to do just about as he is told. If he does not wish to play with the National Hockey League, his contract can be kept out of hockey altogether. The Boston club apparently do not wish to lose the services of a star like Fredrickson and will not make it easy for him to pass along. Star centre ice men do not come to the front in bunches every season and Art Ross, manager of the Bruins, will do a lot of figuring

Father of Victoria Woman Fought In War For Garibaldi

Miss Nora Davies, who left Victoria recently to visit her father, Major Griffiths Davies, at Weston-super-Mare, England, has suffered a sad bereavement in his death, which occurred on Tuesday, September 13, in his ninetieth year.

Major Griffiths Davies was born in London and at a comparatively early age entered the Bank of England, where his father was for many years chief of the Consols department. While still a lad, he and his brother joined the British Legion in the Italian war of independence under Garibaldi and served throughout the campaign, he becoming color-sergeant. In later years he became an officer in the East Kent Regiment Volunteers retiring as major.

HULL TORIES HAVE LIST OF DEMANDS FOR CONVENTION

Conservatives Asked to Sanction Constitution Changes Only Unanimously Voted

Hull, Que., Oct. 6.—The Hull delegates to the Conservative National Convention in Winnipeg next week will take along with them a series of resolutions adopted at a meeting of the Cartier-Macdonald Conservative Club here last night. One of these resolutions calls for bi-lingual stamps, money and railway tickets, particularly on the Canadian National system. An embargo against exportation of raw materials should be applied according to need and opportunity, one resolution says, and another declares Canada should take part in any future war only with the sanction of the people.

Under the heading "Confederation" is a resolution stating the Conservative Party "wishes the maintenance of Canadian Confederation, an understanding freely consented to between the different provinces of the country to assure to them prosperity by co-operation, conciliation and union of the different groups of the nation."

CHANGES IN CONSTITUTION

The resolution adds that the spheres of Federal and provincial authority should be better defined "in order to assure to the provinces the greatest measure of autonomy, with the maintenance of the Federal bond," and, further, that "the Conservative Party wishes the integral maintenance of our constitution, which should not be amended without the unanimous consent of all the provinces."

A. Guerin, Member of the Quebec Legislative Assembly for Hull, in explaining this resolution, said this referred in part to Senate reform.

"The articles of Confederation recognize French and English as the official languages," he said. "We are to consent to some radical reform of the Senate, another section might ask to-morrow for such an amendment to the Confederation pact which would affect our language."

NATIONAL UNITY DISCUSSION

"The party does not recognize as a whole any declaration by certain members tending to hurt our national unity," are words included in another resolution.

A tariff resolution calls for the maintenance of the National Policy of protection and the extension of mutual customs preferences within the Empire.

Dr. P. A. Dumas, president of the Hull club, presided at the meeting.

SEARCH MADE FOR THREE MANITOBIANS

Brothers Missing From Their Farm Near Foxwarren Since September 22

Brandon, Man., Oct. 6.—Anxious parents and provincial police are making inquiries throughout Manitoba concerning the disappearance of three brothers, who for the past ten years had never left the environs of their small farm four miles north of Foxwarren, Man. They are reported to have been so shy that they were even reluctant to mingle with their own people.

The brothers were known to be highly eccentric and had not cut their hair during their self-imposed exile.

They have been missing from the farm since September 22. Their disappearance has alarmed their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lowe, who informed the police the brothers had carried a sum of money, the proceeds from a recent sale of furs. The ages of the trio are twenty-three, twenty-five and twenty-seven.

Colwood

Colwood, Oct. 6.—The first annual meeting of the Colwood Optimists' Club was held in the Colwood Hall on Saturday evening last, followed by a banquet for the officers and members.

Owing to the absence of the president, Miss C. Godfrey, the chair was taken by the honorary president, Miss Marion Kelly. The annual reports were read by Miss Dorothy Walsh, secretary, and Miss Eva Clark, treasurer, which showed the very satisfactory progress of the club. The officers and members were thanked by the founder and honorary president, Miss Kelly, who encouraged the club to carry on its good work of optimism and good spirit and helpfulness.

The election of officers resulted in Miss Marion Kelly again being elected honorary president, Cedric Myers, president; Miss Jean Murray, secretary; Miss Margaret Peatt, treasurer; Mrs. E. Shields, musical director.

The members then repaired to the banquet hall, where the tables, decorated in Autumn colors, presented a very festive appearance. Here before taking their seats the retiring officers and Miss Kelly were presented with bouquets of Autumn flowers. John Southwell acted as toastmaster and the following toasts were proposed and responded to with great elation by the gathering:

The first toast was "The King."

The ladies were then toasted, and Mr. Southwell proposed a toast to "Press." This toast was replied to by Pat Munro, who heartily seconded the toast.

"Absent Friends" was proposed by the toastmaster, Cedric Myers replying, mentioning absent members, Miss Muriel Pearson, now residing in Ladysmith; Miss Caroline Godfrey, teaching at Fraser Lake, and Miss Marjorie Hopwood, teaching at Shubert Bay.

Miss Marion Kelly spoke of the inauguration of an Optimists' Club in Victoria recently, and proposed a toast wishing them all success in their enterprise.

The banquet proceeded with much merriment and the evening closed with dancing, the music being supplied by Mrs. E. Shields. Before dispersing, John Southwell expressed, on behalf of the club, thanks to all those who had so generously helped them in diverse ways during the year.

Wife—Isn't this a poem of a flock, dear?
Hubby (giving it the o.e.)—Yes, but I think it could do with another verse.

To Appeal Order Winding Up Besco

Toronto, Oct. 6.—F. R. Mackelcan, general manager of the National Trust Company, announced that the Dominion Trust Corporation would carry its appeal against the Besco Winding-up order to the Privy Council. The company, Mr. Mackelcan said, has asked for a stay of the order, until next Saturday, October 8, pending preparations for the privy council appeal.

Young Wife Lives On Thin Soup 5 Months

For months Mrs. Connor could not do her housework and had to live on soup. She says:
"The only thing I could eat for five months was soup. Anything else would blow me up with gas till I could hardly breathe. I lay awake nights and had to walk the floor sometimes. Nothing seemed to do me any good. Then I began to take Adlerika and the first bottle helped me. Now I eat almost everything, my stomach doesn't bother me, and I sleep much better. Adlerika has made me a happy woman."
—Mrs. A. J. Connor.

As gently and naturally as taking a drink of water, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowels, bringing quick relief from gas bloating, intestinal stasis and chronic constipation. The very FIRST dose of Adlerika often brings out astonishing amounts of old waste matter from the intestinal canal. This poisonous matter may have been in the intestines a long time, causing gas, headache, sleeplessness and many other symptoms. A treatment of just a FEW weeks with Adlerika often brings great permanent improvement in cases of so-called stomach trouble.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY
Dr. H. Louis Shoub, New York, states: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing action, tends to check the growth of intestinal bacteria."
Dr. A. J. Lancaster, a physician of over a quarter century's experience, says: "In the treatment of gastrointestinal disorders, Adlerika has no equal."
J. E. Puckett, writes: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for twenty years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system."

Dr. Carl Weschke, graduate of Heidelberg University, Germany, first perfected Adlerika. It is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser known to science with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements.
Many physicians recognize Adlerika as the one dependable remedy for gas, intestinal stasis and chronic constipation. Unlike most medicines it acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels. No matter what you have tried for the bowels and stomach, Adlerika will surprise you.

OUR SERIAL STORY

"The Wife & Co."

By LYLE HAMILTON

CHAPTER XLIX

Molly almost screamed. "Bob Brownell, what are you talking about?" She did not rise from the couch, but lifted herself on one arm and gazed at him, fixedly.

He spoke carefully, as if weighing each word before he uttered it. "A husband and wife are supposed to be partners," he said. "If I did my share the way you do yours, we'd be out in the street, begging."

She dropped her feet to the floor and bent forward. The veins in her temples were swollen with anger. "Go on!" she told him.

"That's all I wanted to say," he answered.

Molly's mouth was working, and her hands shook. "You're tired of me! That's what you're trying to say!"

"No," he said patiently. "I'm not tired of you. But you undertook a new job when you married me—and you're not doing it. I'm working hard and trying to get ahead, but you—"

He hesitated. "I can't quite describe it. Anyhow, you run out to type stories for this Mrs. Buck because you're lonesome, and I haven't had a decent meal at home since we were married, except the one Mrs. Potter got for us, and this chuck we buy ready cooked."

"A decent meal!" she said, with bitter emphasis. "That's all a wife means to a man—his cook! What do you suppose I'm working for at Mrs. Buck's? To help you, Bob Brownell?"

"To help me buy a henna-colored coat!" he retorted. Then he threw up his hands. "Still, what's the use talking about it?"

He turned his back and went to the window. She watched him for a moment as he stood, his hands deep in his pockets, his shoulders hunched. The cords in the back of his neck showed more than they used to, and his shoulder blades could be traced beneath his coat.

"I've heard," said Molly, "that men don't care what their wives have, after they're married. You're not interested in whether I look nice. Bob, how long has it been since you took me anywhere to dance? Not since we've been married!"

She paused, but he gave no indication that he heard.

"If we go to a movie or the theatre, I have to tease you to go—make my voice pretty and say 'please!' Any other man would feel happy if his wife helped him and bought her own clothes. Instead of that all you can do is to sneer about 'henna-colored coats!'"

As her voice dropped, he turned and walked swiftly to the door, taking up his hat as he passed the table. "I'm going out," he said.

The door swung open, and then shut. He was gone, leaving Molly on the couch, staring at the place where he had been.

"Oh," she said, half aloud. "Oh-h-h!"

She sat there, rigid, for a full minute. Then she rose to the closet, got out her own coat and hat, and put them on in trembling haste. Going to the mirror to pat her hair into place, she saw in the glass, her lips were drawn back in fury; her eyes blazed; her cheeks were mottled with alternate red and white. It wasn't the same pretty Molly she was used to seeing in the mirror.

Taking both her hands she drew them over her face to erase the lines of wrath. "To think—he'd talk that way—to me!" she murmured.

She made another examination of her face. She was not in condition to go out where she could be seen. Throwing off her hat and coat she went to the bathroom and massaged her cheeks and the thin flesh around her eyes.

If this quarrel had come before her marriage, Molly would have been mixed up in her wrath, tempering it and making her sorry. But now rage certificate was in the bottom drawer of her dresser. He was not like little Swedie's husband—he would not run away. Therefore her mind was free to be utterly and violently angry with him. She need not stop to worry over what he might do. Her only problem was how to punish him, so he never again would criticize her and wound her self-esteem, and so he would be bitterly and eternally regretful.

She lay on the couch till ten o'clock, thinking. Then she let down the bed and crept beneath the covers. It was 1 o'clock when Bob came home.

He opened the door quietly, but as he felt for the cord that lighted the little night-lamp, he fell against a chair. Molly did not speak, but she watched him through lowered lashes from her pillow.

When he moved toward the closet to hang up his hat, he swayed, and placed his hand against the wall to steady himself.

Bob had been drinking!

By this time the faint odor of alcohol reached Molly's nostrils and she flounced over in bed to her other side.

"Did I wake you up?" asked Bob. His speech was not thick—evidently he was not entirely drunk—but it had an unfamiliar quality as if he were talking through a layer of loose wool.

"Sorry, I'll try to be quiet," he went on, when she failed to answer. Molly stirred a trifle when he sat down to take off his shoes. "Awake?" he asked. She remained silent. "Want over to see the gang I used to live with," he continued. "Had a little supper and a couple of drinks."

The young wife gave an impatient jerk.

"All right, I won't say any more," he said, cheerfully.

There were more words that night. Next morning she coolly refused to speak to him.

She got her breakfast—fried eggs, toast and weak coffee—but she laid his plate alone upon the dining table. She took her own meal in the kitchen. Brownell made several attempts to talk, but his wife's compressed lips and averted gaze gave warning that peace could not be made yet.

After breakfast he stood around, uncertain whether to help with the dishes or not. Finally he asked:

"Want to go for a ride this morning?"

He was standing in the dining-room, just beyond the kitchen doorway. She came and closed the door between them.

Listening, she heard him move to the table, fumble with a glass—she could identify the sound when he touched it against the pitcher—and then he was silent.

At the end of half an hour she cautiously peeped into the room where she had left him.

Search of the front room showed that his hat was gone, also. Before leaving, however, he had stopped to make the bed, and had swung it into its place in the wall.

Molly looked at her reflection in the glass. The lines were gone from her face. Her expression was not amiable, but that could be cured.

Going to the telephone she called up Mrs. Potter. That fortunate widow's new telephone made it unnecessary to disturb the woman at the delicatessen shop, and Mrs. Potter answered promptly.

"I'm alone to-day," said Molly. There came a quick question from the other end of the line. "Oh, he had to go out. I think he'll be gone all day. What? What? I'd be delighted. Mrs. Potter, I'll come right over."

She hung up the receiver with intense satisfaction. If Bob Brownell should come home for lunch, he would find his wife gone. An afternoon of worry might do him good.

An hour later she climbed the old, high flight of steps to Mrs. Potter's flat. At the head of the stair, where no outside light could come, burned a tall new piano lamp, with a red shade. Mrs. Potter in a lacy bodice gown was waiting beside it.

"I had on my old wrapper," she shouted to Molly, as the girl reached the halfway point in her ascent. "But I hustled into my nice duds."

Molly looked around her as she reached Mrs. Potter's side. The underfoot was a new Persian runner, long and thick, and beneath that in turn was a new velvet carpet.

The widow led her into her old room—the one that Mary Holmquist had left on Friday night. Lace curtains of a large and outstanding pattern were at the windows. The shabby old rug had given place to a new blue-and-red-and-yellow one, very soft to the feet. The couch had been supplanted by a day bed of Chinese lacquer, startling in its brilliant orange and black. The dresser had been replaced by a much larger piece of furniture, trimmed in pale blue with birds painted upon the drawers.

"And this isn't half of it," said Mrs. Potter, proudly. "Every other room is fixed up just as nice as this. The girls are just crazy about it. I ought to raise the rent on 'em, drat 'em—but they can't pay any more rent."

"But are you really going to stay here? What does your brother say?" Mrs. Potter sat down in the new deep arm chair.

"Listen, young woman. Let me tell you something about men!"

SANKEY TRIAL SET FOR PRINCE RUPERT

Vancouver, Oct. 6.—Joseph Sankey, Port Eslington Indian, lost his appeal to have the venue of his second trial on a charge of having murdered Miss Loretta Chisholm changed, when the British Columbia Court of Appeal yesterday ruled Sankey must again be tried in Prince Rupert.

Chief Justice Macdonald, in handing down the judgment of the Court of Appeal, declared no precedent for such an appeal could be found in the statutes of Canada or the laws of England. Accordingly, the application of the appellant was dismissed.

In the argument counsel for Sankey contended a Prince Rupert jury would be prejudiced against him. It was asked that the trial be held either in New Westminster or Vancouver.

Sankey, who was held at the Oakalla jail for several months under sentence of death, was convicted of the slaying of the victim, a school teacher, at Port Eslington.

Following the conviction an appeal was brought by the defence in the British Columbia Court of Appeal on the ground that an alleged confession of Sankey secured by police should not have been admitted as evidence by the trial judge. The appeal was disallowed.

Later the defence carried its appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada, where it was allowed. The Supreme Court in its finding, censured police methods in securing the alleged confession.

Sankey is twenty-two years of age. His home was on the Tsimshian Reserve.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Squinky's Tail

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By Howard R. Garis)

Squinky was a little pig girl, sister to Curly and Floppy the pig boys and she was very nice, except for one thing. She was always fussing and worrying because she had such a short little tail with a curl in it.

"I wish," Squinky would say, with a sad look in her eyes, "I wish I had a long, straight tail like Jillie, the mouse girl."

"Little girl pigs don't have tails like that," Squinky's mother grunted to her. "You should be glad you have any tail at all. Look at Buddy and Bright-eyes!"

And indeed, the two guinea-pig children had no tails, which, I think, is rather funny. But it is true.

"I don't care!" Squinky would squeal. "I'd rather have no tail at all than a little, short, curly one like mine."

So, as I say, she was always fussing and worrying about her tail, and trying to find ways of making it grow longer and straighter. Often her father would tell her that if she ate a lot of bread crumbs her tail might grow, just as, perhaps, your father tells you that crumbs make curly hair. And Squinky would eat all the crumbs Curly and Floppy thought was quite jolly, for they didn't like crumbs.

But Squinky's tail continued to be short and curly and one day some one said:

"Perhaps if you studied harder in school, Squinky, your tail would grow longer."

Then Squinky began to study very hard, indeed, and she even stayed in after the others had gone to study her lessons for next day. Often, when the Lady Mouse Teacher was ready to go home, after all the other pupils were gone, there would sit Squinky at her desk, studying away.

"Come, Squinky, it's time to go home!" Miss Mouse would squeak.

"Oh, Teacher, let me stay a little more! I think my tail is growing longer!" Squinky would say. And though Miss Mouse did not believe that studying hard would change tails, still she was kind to the little pig girl and let her stay in. Often the Mouse Teacher would creep out of school, leaving Squinky to close and lock the door.

And once, after she had gone home, leaving Squinky at her desk studying and looking at her tail, the Lady Mouse began to think it wasn't just right.

"I'll go back and make Squinky come out and lock the door," squeaked Miss Mouse. "Her tail never will grow longer because she stays in!"

On her way back to the school Miss

Mouse met Uncle Wiggily. So she told the rabbit gentleman about Squinky's wish for a longer tail and how the little pig was studying so hard.

"I'll tell Squinky to come out of school, and I'll look up for you," offered the rabbit gentleman to Miss Mouse. "I have nothing special to do this afternoon."

"Thank you," said Miss Mouse. "Then I won't need to go back to school. And I wish you'd tell Squinky not to be so silly about her tail."

"I'll tell her," offered Mr. Longears. He hopped to the Hollow Stump School which was very still and quiet now, with all the pupils out except Squinky. And as Uncle Wiggily opened the front door he heard the little pig girl say:

"Oh, I believe it's really growing longer! At last I am going to get my wish. My tail isn't so curly and it's growing longer! Oh, how happy I am! I'm glad I stayed in and studied!"

"Squinky must be dreaming to think that study can make her tail grow longer," thought the rabbit. "I must tell her she is doing wrong."

Then, as he pushed open the door of the room where Squinky was, the bunny heard her shouting:

"Oh, don't come in! Don't you dare come in! Oh, keep out or I'll call the Police Dog! Oh, Oh! Oh!"

Quite surprised, Mr. Longears stood still.

"Can Squinky be talking to me?" he asked himself. "But why should she want to keep me out? There is some mystery here! I must see what it is!" And what the mystery was you shall hear to-morrow night when the story will be about Uncle Wiggily and Holding his breath, Jack Lockwill stared at the distorted shadow of the unknown person who had crept stealthily up to the tent. Of course the prowler was there for no good purpose. Within reach of Jack, McNally was breathing regularly and heavily. Darling began to toss and mutter, as if troubled by an unpleasant dream. Jack rose and tiptoed to the tent's entrance.

Silently opening the flap, Lockwill stepped outside. Then he summoned his courage, dashed round to the side of the tent, and seized the prowler.

A scream broke the stillness of the moonlight night, and Jack found a girl struggling in his grasp. "Great Scott!" he exclaimed. "It's Bambl!"

"Oh, oh!" cried the girl. "You scare-a me a-l-a-mos' to death!"

"What the dickens are you doing here?" asked Jack, releasing her.

"My dad-a he hurt-a da leg—g-a mooch-a laam," she answered.

"He no walk-a good, so we hide-a in da wood. Him mooch-a hungry. I come-a back-a here to ask-a mebbe you sell-a me some-a thing to eat-a. Look-a! I have-a da mon' to pay."

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1927

This is a day of conflicting planetary influences, according to astrology, which finds adverse aspects strong.

It is a rule under which it is wise to distrust one's judgment, especially where investments or speculations are concerned.

Meetings that are called for financial conferences are to-day badly directed by the stars, which tend to produce false confidence.

This is not a favorable way for oil production or exploitation and there may be much agitation regarding prices, the stars foretell.

This is held to be most auspicious for colleges and educational institutions, which this year will prosper amazingly.

Hospitals now come under a rule making for campaigns for funds and many will profit from legacies, if the stars are rightly read.

Tendency to speculate in government securities is likely to be strong in the United States, owing to some unexpected international crisis.

New alliances in which Germany, Austria, Russia and Turkey are interested, are forecast.

Mexico again is to carry on negotiations with the United States, which bring out national antagonisms, astrologers predict.

All the signs point to much bitterness as the national political campaign begins and again surprises are foretold regarding the choice of candidates for president.

Women now assume importance in public affairs and many may nurse office-seeking ambitions, only to be disappointed.

DEAN ADDRESSES ROYAL SOCIETY OF ST. GEORGE

Cannot Wash England Off Map, He Says, in Giving Recent Impressions

A large audience greeted Dean C. S. Quinlan Tuesday evening on the occasion of his lecture on "Recent Impressions of England" to members of the Royal Society of St. George, the Campbell Building.

"You can't wash old England off the map," the Dean said. "Don't pity her; she is true and steady; her face is scarred with the wounds of war; she has gone through industrial upheavals since the war; but the English people aren't pitying themselves, and I don't believe they want our pity. An Englishman grumbles most, and demands pity when he is most prosperous. I found some of my English friends looking with envious eyes at the unparalleled prosperity of the United States; but history reminds us that the hour of prosperity is full of peril."

"Hard times are not the greatest evil for men and nations. More men, and nations, are ruined by prosperity than by adversity. Let England keep her soul great and pure, and she will continue to be in the future, as she has been in the past, a great and stimulating benefactor to the world."

The speaker touched upon the housing problem in England, and said that since the armistice, England has erected 900,000 houses, and of this number, 527,000 have been erected in the last three years. More people every year own their own homes.

Speaking on the question of temperance, the Dean said:

"England's drink bill is $1,500,000,000 per year. Yet England is slowly becoming more temperate. During my recent visit, I only saw one drunken man. I submit the following reliable statistics: Three years ago of the people who frequented the large restaurants, seventy-five per cent. drank no alcohol; of the remaining twenty-five per cent., three-quarters drank either light wines or beer, and one-quarter whisky or port. In 1927, in one huge restaurant, it was ascertained that the number who took alcoholic liquor had gone down from twenty-five per cent. to seventeen per cent., and in another restaurant, to seven per cent. Among clerks, inquiry shows that of men over forty, twenty per cent. were total abstainers; men under forty, forty per cent. total abstainers. In the army, a large number of the soldiers do not drink at all. Drinking over business is less frequent. It is becoming a libel to say that England is not a sober country. The causes for this improvement are partly the restricted hours of sale; higher prices of liquor; and reduction in the number of public houses. Still more is it due to the better housing of the people, to a love of fresh air, and desire to be in the country; to the greater companionship of men and women, a greater desire for physical fitness, and a rise in the level of education." The speaker stated that possibly twenty per cent. of the students at Oxford and Cambridge were from the working class who had earned scholarships. As a result, Oxford and Cambridge are more democratic. In one sense, these great universities were always democratic, for nowhere in the world is there greater freedom of thought and speech.

Speaking of industrial conditions, the Dean went on to say, "England is slowly on the upgrade, is weathering the storm and preparing for better days. Her prestige is still high, and her national spirit unbroken and indestructible."

Alderman John Harvey occupied the chair in the absence of the president, Rev. R. W. Lee, who sent his regrets to the meeting for his inability to attend owing to an engagement at Cobble Hill. Alfred Hallam proposed a vote of thanks to the speaker, Charles Keen seconding. It was announced by the secretary that a social evening will be held on Tuesday, October 10.

TAKES POULTRY KNOWLEDGE TO DISTANT FARMS

Terry Teaches Settlers in Isolated Districts How to Improve Flocks

Returning to Victoria Tuesday from a novel tour of the North Thompson district, J. R. Terry of the Poultry Branch of the Department of Agriculture, was enthusiastic regarding the results of his trip. Starting out of Kamloops he journeyed north to the end of the road, in a Ford truck which had been specially fitted up for the reception of live bird specimens, and a full and varied supply of poultry equipment and bulletins. Trap nest models, vermin traps, feed hoppers and small models of colony houses and hen houses and whitewash sprays, were displayed at all of the centres visited, a meeting being held each evening on the northern journey. In addition, killing and plucking demonstrations were given at wayside farms and afternoon meetings. At each place, a number of live birds taken were specimens of White Leghorns, Barred Rocks, Rhode Island Reds and White Wyandottes, all cockerels from high producing hens.

MAKING PROGRESS

In all sections visited, Mr. Terry noted great progress since his visit to the valley twelve years ago. At Vin-sulla, where a soldier settlement is located, large crops of potatoes were being harvested, and the third cutting of alfalfa being cut. At Barriere, about fifty miles from Kamloops, much activity was evident among the mount- tains by prospectors and mining companies. Silver, lead, gold and copper ores have been discovered recently, and much machinery taken in.

One of the best meetings of the trip was held at Chinook Cove, where the settlers are largely of German birth. Here also a large soldier settlement has been established. Large quantities of sheep and goats are kept, and the owners appeared well pleased with their returns. The only drawback seems to be the depredations of black bears, one rancher having shot seven this season, and had lost over thirty sheep. Many of the settlers grind their own grain for flour, and with their cattle and vegetables seem to be satisfied with their lot. The lecturers had the pleasure of dining at a German's house at which a Canadian officer and his wife were also present.

The Clearwater district has a considerable acreage devoted to strawberries, and settlers told of having had snow as late as April 9, and ripe strawberries on May 24. They have a first-class market in Edmonton, only sixteen hours away, and a daily train service at their doors.

OFFICERS AGAIN TO SERVE GANGES

Ganges, Oct. 6.—The annual meeting of the Liberal Association was held in the Mahon Hall, Monday evening. The officers of last year were re-elected as follows: Norman Wilson, president; O. J. Mowat, vice-president; and Mr. Bowden, secretary-treasurer. After the meeting coffee and cake were served and a moving picture was put on and enjoyed by all, the hall being well filled.

The Basketball Club members started to practice this evening. Boys will have Monday and girls Wednesday night to train.

Rev. McNaughton of Victoria took the services at the United Church at Ganges on Sunday. There is a vacancy there at present.

Miss Manson is spending a couple of weeks in Vancouver.

C. W. Bazer is spending a few days in Vancouver on business.

Rev. George Dean of Victoria is visiting friends at Ganges.

Langford

Langford, Oct. 6.—A meeting of the St. Matthew's Guild was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Stuart Yates, with the president, Ernest Gough, in the chair. Among the correspondence was an appeal for funds to furnish the kitchen of the new Anglican Theological College at Point Grey. The members agreed to send a donation towards this object. Wednesday, November 30, was fixed for the guild winter sale. An invitation from a late member for the ladies to hold a meeting at her new residence in Oak Bay, was accepted for November 10. The members will decorate St. Matthew's Church for the Harvest Festival which will be held on Friday evening, October 16, when Dean Quinlan, from Victoria, will be the preacher.

Mrs. H. N. Yates and Miss Nellie Wilson were visitors to Shawnigan Lake this week.

The choir practice will be held on Friday evening in the St. Matthew's Church at 8 p.m. All members of the congregation are requested to attend to help with special music which will be rendered at the Harvest Festival services.

The Importance of the Commonplace

THE Northern Electric wire and cable reel is a familiar sight throughout Canada. To the casual observer it is a commonplace, yet it represents one phase of the romance of Nation building.

Shortly after Confederation, when Dr. Alexander Graham Bell was making his experiment for the transmission of speech by electricity, he had to use ordinary stove-pipe wire for the first line from Brantford to Tutela Heights in Ontario.

Today a network of specially made wires and cables knits

the provinces together. These wires and cables link outpost, farm house, village and city, and the voice of any section may be heard at will. The industrial, economic and social life of every part of Canada is co-ordinated for the benefit of the Nation. Your telephone gives you a place in this national forum.

Most of the wire and cable, telephone instruments and equipment required for Canada's million telephones are made by Canadians in Canadian workshops. Thus the Northern Electric Company, by developing and supplying this necessary equipment, contributes directly, as well as indirectly, to the industrial growth of Canada, and to the comfort, convenience and efficiency of Canadians and Canadian enterprise.
